Meridian Trust employees go ‘Casual for a Cause’

Meridian Trust Federal Credit Union employees collected nearly $2,100 for charities last year by showing up for work in blue jeans.

Meridian Trust’s Casual for a Cause program allows employees to ‘dress down’ one day each month in exchange for a donation of at least $3 monthly. At the end of every quarter, participating employees’ names are placed in a drawing, and the winner is allowed to choose which charity receives the donations. In 2008, funds raised by Meridian Trust’s Casual for a Cause program were donated to the American Cancer Society, the American Red Cross, and Jackson’s Santa Claus Fund.

Meridian Trust is a full-service, not-for-profit financial cooperative founded more than 50 years ago on the philosophy of people helping people. The credit union has offices in Cheyenne, Rawlins, Lander and Jackson. MTFCU also partners with Utah Power Credit Union to operate powerTRUST Credit Union Service Organization facilities in Casper and Rock Springs.
